ONE KILLED, FIVE INJURED BY EXPLOSION

Fireworks Factory Wrecked in Greenpoint—Boy Blown 200 Feet.

OTHER VICTIMS MAY DIE.

Owner of the Plant, His Wife and Children Only Ones in the Place.

A fireworks factory at Meeker and Varick avenues, Greenpoint, conducted by Joseph Spezio, an Italian, was completely demolished by an explosion at 3 o'clock this afternoon. Anthony Spezio, the sixteen-year-old son of the owner, was blown through the roof a distance of 200 feet and instantly killed. Mrs. Caroline Spezio, wife of the owner, Spezio himself, Thomas, aged twelve years; Frank, aged ten, and Joseph, aged six years, are all in St. Catherine's Hospital in Brooklyn, where it is said they will die. They are horribly burned and the left arms are blown off of the two children.

No Outside Employees. The factory was engaged exclusively in the manufacture of bombs and fireworks for Italian celebrations. Spezio employed no one outside of the members of his own family and they were all experts in the manufacture of fireworks. As the law provides, the plant, which consists of a long, low building one and a half stories high, and a number of smaller buildings, is in an isolated part of the city. It is located on top of a hill and the nearest house is that of Mrs. Mary Hanigan, 30 yards away.

There were two distinct explosions. Just how they happened is a mystery, as none of the injured is able to tell anything. But every building in the place was raised and even the cottages of Mrs. Hanigan was destroyed. She and her daughter were both burned and had to be attended by the ambulance surgeon.

Six Ambulances Responded.

Policeman Green, of the Greenpoint station, was a few blocks away when the explosion occurred and he turned in an alarm and also a call for ambulances. Six ambulances responded from six different hospitals. The firemen on their arrival plunged into the ruins of the main building and brought out the bodies of the Spezio family. All were alive with the exception of Anthony, whose body was found afterward two hundred feet away. Those alive were unconscious and in a horribly burned condition. They were quickly hustled to the hospital.

The firemen succeeded in extinguishing the flames after about an hour's hard work. They found no powder there exploded afterward, and it is believed that everything explosive in the place went up at once.

SWEETHEART HERE AS BRIDE TO HIS RIVAL

After Charles F. Murphy had appeared at Tammany Hall today the story gained circulation that under no circumstances will Tammany renominate District Attorney Jerome. Leader Murphy would not discuss it. "Wait until the convention meets," he said. "That body will decide who is and who is not to be a candidate."

Murphy is in town to stay until the break of the campaign. Former Gov. DeWitt C. Gill also came to town to-day. He is expected to be quoted on the political scene.

From Republican sources, however, it was ascertained that Mrs. Tammany, the Republican will have none of Mr. Murphy. It is believed that she will not support him.

"MY PRISONER IS GERARD," SAYS COOPER

Schoharie County Constable Sure He Has the Fugitive.

HELD FOR N. Y. POLICE.

"Do You Want Me for Murder?" Asked Suspect When Halted.

(Special to The Evening World.)

ALBANY, Sept. 25.—A man who answers in every way the description of Joseph Gerard, the coal-wagon driver, wanted for the murder of Augusta Pfeiffer, has been arrested at Central Bridge, Schoharie County, by Constable Jay Cooper. Cooper sent word of his capture to Chief of Police Hyatt, of this city, requesting him to notify the New York police. A message was sent to New York and a reply came back that a detective would be sent to Central Bridge at once.

Cooper said to an Evening World reporter that the man he has in custody is the very image of the missing Gerard. He has compared him with the picture of Gerard printed in The World, and says there is no doubt but what he is the man. Furthermore the minute the man was taken in custody he said: "Do you want me for murder?"

He was told that he was suspected of being Gerard, to which he made no reply. A harness buckle was found in the man's pocket and one of his fingers is injured. It looks as though it had been bitten.

After the man had been locked in a room in the Park Hotel for a time he was again closely questioned. Asked why he had asked if he was wanted for murder, he said:

"The man looked utterly worn out. He didn't seem greatly disturbed by his arrest, but when questioned got very nervous. Asked to explain his movements lately he told a number of stories. These were investigated and found to be untrue."

The man was first seen hanging from the top of a hill near the cottage of Mrs. Hanigan was destroyed. She and her daughter were both burned and had to be attended by the ambulance surgeon.

BRIGHTON BEACH RACE TRACK, Sept. 25.—Brighton begins its week's meeting this afternoon with a card that was excellent in its makeup. It did not seem to have the power of attraction, however, for the attendance was remarkably light. It may have been that the cool, breezy weather deterred many who knew of the unprotected makeup of Brighton's open-work grandstand. The chances are, however, that the 33 tanks is beginning to thin out the ranks of the regulars, and from now on slim attendances may be looked for as all meetings.

The feature of to-day's card was the Produce Stakes with a small but select field. The balance of the card was interesting. The track was in perfect condition.

Old Horse Jockey Dead. Johnnie Lantry, one of the prominent jockeys of years ago, died at Sheepshead Bay last night from a complication of diseases, principally tuberculosis. Lantry had been ill for some months.

When in the height of his fame, some fifteen years ago, he rode many winners in class races. He was graduated from the W. C. Daly stables, but afterward rode for the most famous stables in this city. He was about thirty-three years of age.

Kiamessa Off Badly. They went away to a bad break with Kiamessa left behind. Burrell and Zeala took command and showed the way to the stretch. There she out and Dremer took the lead. Kiamessa, who had gradually made up ground, then closed, but Dremer won by a length, while Kiamessa beat Zeala three lengths for the place.

Bonfire by Five Lengths. Buck O'Dowd made the pace, followed by Ganzevoort and Bonfire. Half a mile (Continued on Second Page.)

NAME MONROE FOR MAYOR

Robert Grier Monroe was proposed as the Citizens' Union Mayoralty candidate by Robert Fulton Cutting at the meeting of the joint-nominating committee of the anti-Tammany forces late to-day. The representatives of the Municipal Ownership League advanced the name of Judge Seabury. John Ford was also championed.

No action was taken. Adjournment was taken to Wednesday night, which is indicative that no candidate will be decided upon at its conference to-night.

Mr. Cutting made it clear that if Mr. Ford was nominated the Citizens' Union would bolt.

AMERICAN LEAGUE PARK, Sept. 25.—Local baseball fans saw the American League tallenders play the Highlanders to-day. There was no pennant hanging on the result, but there was enough at stake to make Griffith's men extend themselves.

Only eleven points separate the Highlanders from third position in the race, and it was no wonder Griffith coached his team so hard and earnestly throughout the game. A few victories mean a great deal to the Highlanders, and as a consequence every player on the team worked hard and faithfully to carry off the game.

First Inning. Sluggish Stone lifted the first ball Orth pitched up to centre and Fultz smothered it. Rockenfeld also sent up a sky-scraper which Hahn gathered in after a short sprint. Fultz then ran his fully thirty yards and pulled in Frick's long fly to deep centre. No runs.

Hahn singled and best Morgan's throw to the bag. Keeler then batted out a bouncer, and on Wallace's fungible both runners were safe. Elberfeld bunted, and on Morgan's wild throw to first Hahn scored and Keeler reached third.

Scoring Keeler and Elberfeld. Williams Yeager. Hahn Chase also contributed a single to centre, advancing Yeager to third. Chase stole second, and on the throw down Yeager scored on a slide. Fultz got a pass. Kleinow forced Chase at second. Kleinow stole second and Chase scored. Wallace muffed Spencer's throw. Orth struck out.

FIVE RUNS. Chase caught Wallace's line fly at a foot from the ground. Jones was an easy victim. Orth throwing him out at first. Gleason singled and crossed the plate on Keeler's score. A free hit Morgan gave an excellent exhibition of club swinging at Orth's curves. ONE RUN.

Hahn got two bases on Keeler's muffed throw. Keeler reached third. Elberfeld's first and Hahn going to third. Keeler's base scored. Hahn Yeager bunted, and on Morgan's wild throw to first Hahn scored. Yeager reached third. Williams went out. Wallace to Jones. Chase was thrown out by Gleason. Yeager scored. Fultz was out. Rockenfeld to Jones. FOUR RUNS.

Kleinow made a safe hit to the infield. Orth slid out to Keeler. Hahn made his second safe drive, a single to centre, advancing Kleinow to second. Keeler's fly in short centre was collared.

M'GRAWITES HIT BALL AT RIGHT TIME

SCORE BY INNINGS.

Giants ..... 5 0 0 0 0 0 2 10—14

BATTING ORDER.

New York: Brennan, C.; Brown, F.; Doherty, J.; McGinn, J.; Mertes, J.; Dahlen, J.; Devin, J.; Strang, J.; MacEwan, J.; Umpire—Messrs. O'Day and Binola.

BY BOZEMAN BULGER.

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 25.—With the championship of the National League hanging in the balance the Giants sprang forward like thoroughbreds from a raised barrier to-day and gave the Pirates a trouncing that in all likelihood settles their ambition for another year to come.

he score of 15 to 4 in favor of New York tells the story in a flash, but gives no idea of the wonderful reversal of form shown by McGraw's men when under pressure. Every man's heart and soul was centered in this opening fight of the final series with Pittsburgh and nerves were screwed up to a high tension.

Despite his hard work of recent days Mathewson, feeling fit as a fiddle, wanted to work, and McGraw let him have the reins. With his great drop ball Matty mowed the Pirates down in sections, and but for a few unfortunate misplays Pittsburgh's run would not have been so numerous.

Phillippe went up in the air at the start, soaking three of the Giants with pitched balls. That was the beginning of his downfall. Thereafter the Giants picked up courage, which grew with the game, and base hits were rained about the field whenever runs were wanted. Strang and Dahlen both distinguished themselves with brilliant stops, which threw even Pittsburgh spectators into applause of admiration.

McGraw's victory to-day probably clinches the pennant for Manhattan. Pittsburgh, having twelve more games to play, must win them all, and New York must lose more than half of her remaining eight for the Pirates to set as good as a tie. A crowd of fans watched the contest in tender tones and jeers the Giants hit their way to victory.

Not an objection was made to the umpiring of Emling and O'Day. Every player went in feeling that what was coming to him he would get.

First Inning. Brennan was hit an awful wallop on the spine with the first ball pitched. Brennan sent him forward with a new sacrifice that was dangerous to his life. Donlin singled over second and Brennan raced home with a score. Donlin took second on the fly, and on the throw to first McGraw's men were safe. McGraw's men were safe. McGraw's men were safe. McGraw's men were safe.
